3. THE BIRTH OF JESUS

3.

(Matt. 2:1-14, Luke 2:8-20)

Jesus Christ was born in a stable in Bethlehem among cows and sheep on a cold winter night.

Mary wrapped Him in clean swaddling clothes and laid Him in a manger.

A heavenly choir of angels greeted His birth with the celestial hymn "Glory to God in the highest. . . ."

Shepherds heard the good tidings from an angel and came to adore the infant Jesus.

Three wise men, guided by a bright star, came to worship the baby King, and offered Him precious gifts.

LUKE COMINO

It has been a few months since I have put out a major newsletter. Last month's newsletter was supposed to be a major newsletter, but due to the Debutante Ball and the closing of Expo, I did not have time to prepare it. However, to make up for this I will make next month's newsletter a major newsletter also.

This newsletter sees the return of the Greek superhero KOSTAS KEFTEDAS. When KOSTAS KEFTEDAS first appeared last year, many Gosprians commented on how much they enjoyed it. I must thank for this feature because it must take a lot of time and effort to produce a feature of this quality. This episode of KOSTAS KEFTEDAS is four pages long; due to space I have decided to spread this episode over this newsletter and next month's.

A large part of this newsletter is comprised of a right-up of the soccer season and profiles of each player. A special thanks must go to Nick Pippas who wrote the report and profiles.

Out 'n' About has been devoted to the Debutante Ball. So for those who could not make the Ball you can see pictures of the Debutantes and their partners in Out 'n' About.

Exams are over and Christmas is approaching. To all those Gospyans who had exams and especially those awaiting T.E. scores, good luck! During exams Gospya did not hold any functions, but now that exams are over, Gospya has organised a Taverna Night at Transformers (Sunday, 4th December) and Christmas Party on Sunday, 18th December. In addition, Gospya has a picnic on Sunday, 4th December (further details in this newsletter) and on Sunday 18th before our Christmas Party, there is Christmas Carols at the Church.

Every Monday night about 12 Gospyans play volleyball at Mansfield State High School from 7.30 p.m. to 9.00 p.m. If any other Gospyans are interested you are welcome to come along. We have two (2) volleyball courts and 1½ hours to play, so we can fit plenty more. The games are non-competitive so you don't have to be a good player, just come along and have a good time.

On October 22nd, Gospya held its 6th Annual Debutante Ball. The night was a great success thanks to the tireless efforts of the Debutante Ball Committee. Special thanks must go to Eve Londy who had been working on the Ball for many months. A special thanks must go to Eve's right-hand man (or woman or person), Helen Collivas. In addition, the ball could not have been a success without the constant help of John Vidas, Dyan Mersiades, Fionna Zoupas and Zam Pavlakis and the Master of Ceremonies, Michael Comino.

In closing, I would like to mention that in March Gospya has its elections. I know it is early, but I would urge all Gospyans to give serious consideration to possibly becoming a member of the Executive. There will be more information concerning the election in the January newsletter.

THE SAINT OF THE MONTH

~~in an act of savagery unsurpassed for brutality. However the means, this sweet girl could have saved herself and appeased her wrathful father with a disavowal of Christ, with her lips alone if not with her heart, but she chose to die rather than deny the Savior.~~

All accounts agree that on his way back from the execution of his daughter, Discorus was killed by a bolt of lightning, the thunder of which rumbled from heaven in God's answer to the perpetrator of such a vile deed. A virgin martyr of early Christianity, Barbara's brutal end, as well as her pure life, resulted in the subsequent outpouring of tributes which generations passed on to generations in ever-expanding glorification until she became one of the most popular of all saints in the Middle Ages. Countless Christians fawn through the centuries have found inspiration in hearing her story told and retold in the after-dinner conversations that have become a lost art in the welter of technological substitutes.

A saint in the highest tradition of purity and piety, Barbara is listed in some Church branches as one of the fourteen Auxiliary Saints who are sometimes referred to as Holy Helpers, but she held out so much hope for so many of the faithful in all walks of life that she was adopted by various segments of society as their special patroness. Officially she is recognized as the patroness of artillerymen and firemen and just about everyone engaged in hazardous occupations. She is regarded by some as the safeguard against sudden death.

The purity of St. Barbara is such that her name can be invoked on any occasion with the assurance that her virtue is an answer to evil in any form. She is venerated on December 4.

KOSTAS KEFTEDAS

Thanasis was bored. It was four months since his last written adventure and he had nothing to do. No wrongs to right. No Gospyan Debutante balls to go to (isn't that a shame!). No George Michael's concerts to go crazy at. No Gospyan fashion parades to model for. Worst of all, there was no car polish left to polish his new car. Yes, we did say "NEW CAR"! Thanasis had sold his purple valiant with twin chrome moly head bangers and imitation EXA pulsar striping to go for the real thing. Now Thanasis was the proud owner of a new green EXA with purple spots.

Thanasis went to his letter box on the off chance that there might be something there to read. There was nothing there other than the usual fan mail. But fans no longer meant anything to Thanasis and so he was forced to go and read the Gospyan News. He turned to the back page where the future Gospyan functions were highlighted and noticed that there was a "Go as you are" Taverna night on tonight. He did have other things to do but going to sleep could wait.

Thanasis was confused. He was totally unprepared for this. He usually needed three days to decide on which shirt to wear and another four days to decide on which hair gel to use. Thanasis did not like being rushed. Luckily it was a "Go as you are night" and so Thanasis opted for his three and a half piece fluorescent pink Gico suit with optional gold chain carry case and genuine Stefan "Chest Hair Piece" just to make a good impression.

Thanasis started his car and headed towards West End. There was no-one to impress so Thanasis was taking it easy on the freeway when suddenly a Mack Truck appeared beside him driven by his new arch enemy Victor Kirioarxithy. The truck quickly caught up to Thanasis, preparing to ram him off the road. Thanasis took the first nudge in the rear but only his superior driving skills allowed him to keep control of his car. Thanasis was not impressed. With still one elbow out the window, he floored the accelerator crushing the cockroach that once lived a happy existence there. He flicked the switch. It wasn't nitrous, it was something better. It was his mother's soupa.

As he broke the sound barrier he realised that there was enough distance between him and the Mack Truck and performed a perfect 180 degree turn. He accelerated towards the truck, looking in the mirror to make sure his hair was alright, he popped in a "Gospyan Groovy Getdown" cassette and gripped the steering wheel as the disco lights began flashing in his car. He ploughed into the Mack truck, totally demolishing the truck.

But then Thanasis made his first and only mistake. He hesitated for one second too long whilst looking in the rear view vision mirror as he was driving the wrong way along the freeway lane, he hit the car in front of him.

Thanasis woke up in hospital. He was missing a leg, an arm, an eye, half his brain (which didn't matter) and worst of all, a button from his three and a half piece Gico suit with optional gold chain carry case. All he could remember of the accident was the crumbled wreckage around him and an irate Suzuki Hatch owner shouting "You'd better pay for that scratch on my bumper bar!".

Just then, a doctor, Theodoros Hadzi-ponai-to-kefali-mou, came in and told Thanasis that he was destined to be a one-legged halfwit for the rest of his life (at last a true GOSPYAN). However, Thanasis knew that the incredibly advanced technology available in the Kefteda Kave would save him from such a bleak future (For those of you who do not know, Thanasis Baklavadopoulos Jr. is simply an alias for that great super-hero Kostas Keftedas).

Thanasis thanked Petro Pastitsio for taking him home as he was wheeled to the Kefteda Surgery area of the Kefteda Kave ready for the operation. When he again awoke, he was no longer Thanasis Baklavadopoulous. He wasn't even Kostas Keftedas as we knew him before. Yes, our hero was now the six million drachma Kefteda (ie. $4750 Australian) on a vengeful mission to locate and destroy forever his arch enemy, Stefano.

There was no time to lose. The first thing to do was to locate his old purple valiant and buy it back. After accepting $10 000 to take it back, Kosta made the necessary modifications to once again make the car the famous Kefteda Karo. Kosta was back in action.

Just then the phone rang. Petro answered the phone. It was Kirioarxithy, in an unusually polite voice. "You greasy bastards! Look what you did to my mother's Mack Truck! I'll get you before the iron spade reaches the pupil of the tiger's eye."

Petro Pastitsio was, of course, confused. "What does this mean, Kefteda?"

"Don't you know, Pastitsio? I am very disappointed in you. In Gelsenkirchen in Holland, there is a clock in which the hands are spades and the face is a picture of a tiger and a lion. When the big hand reaches the spot where the pupil of the tiger's eye is located (Which is at about 4:16 p.m. and 24.5 seconds if I remember correctly), a little yellow man comes out and waves his arm in the direction of the nearby town, Rawalpindi. The little man waves his arm exactly 17 times. So, Pastitsio, all we have to do is look up the 17th name in the Rawalpindi 'phone book, and we have found our man"

"Amazing, Kosta, how did you figure that out?"

"I don't know, have a talk to the blokes who are writing this garbage."

Kosta reached for the Rawalpindi phone directory and to his surprise the 17th name was none other than Vanessa Comino, the "Gospyan News" editor. In last month's adventure Kosta had gone out of his way to save her but now it was all clear to him. Victor Kirioarxithy was not the villain, it was infact Vanessa Comino who had been using the "Gospyan News" as a front for her terrorist activities. Infact Thanasis had suspected all along that the Gospyan News Editorial team was responsible for selling and trafficking stale koulouria. For the first and only time in his life Kosta felt pathetically sick. If there was one person he had trusted and respected, it was Vanessa. But now he knew it was she who was responsible for his having a bionic leg, arm, eye and half a brain (although that didn't matter, at least he was now a true GOSPYAN).

Kosta gathered his emotions and reminded himself that super heros shouldn't allow emotions to interfere with their work. Kosta knew what had to be done and that wasting time was not part of the plan.

"To the Kefteda Karo Pastitsio!!!!!!".

Kosta and Petro lept into the Kefteda Karo. The walls of the kefteda kave opened as our superheros emerged from underneath the Mt Gravatt "Mac Donalds".

"Tap into the Kefteda Komputa and get the co-ordinates for the headquarters of the "Gospyan News", Petro". Petro did as he was asked and the Kefteda Karo was now programmed with the location of the headquarters of the "Gospyan News".

DOWN 2:1 IN BOTH SEMI AND FINALS

(Story & Profile by S.B.S. Reporter Nick 'Less Money' Pippas)

As they say in the classics 'good night Nurse' to Gospya Spartans for 1983. Spartans bowed out of the Championship Series on Saturday August 27 in the Knockout Final to a somewhat lucky Blackstone Welsh. As Theo always said 'beware the Mavro Petra' but 'luck' may be a cynical word..fortune always favours the brave. If it's any consolation to the lads and their supporters Blackstone won the grand final in what was an open match. Clairvaux scored from a penalty in the 2nd minute and scrambled another just before Halftime. At 2nil I thought Blackstone were finished (so did we a week earlier) but in the second half B.W. recovered to reach 2:2. From behind they levelled again at 3:3 and with minutes remaining 'headband' broke the line and snatched Victory with a final scoreline Blackstone welsh 4: Clairvaux 3. Seven goals later Clairvaux's Final Hoodoo of losing 5 consecutive Grande Finals remained. Blackstone had done a Balmain from the K.O. Semi Vs GOYA to winning against favourites Clairvaux. For us our innate weaknesses let us down but as the Headlines suggest there is nothing to be ashamed of....

RAP-UP

Indeed, the more seasoned players will tell you that we did exceptionally well considering the size of the task set in April. We won the Premiership defeating all of the hotshots that we encountered in the last 6 years: GOYA, Blackstone, Clairvaux, St. Pauls, West Moreton. This was the first year we had played in the top level of G.C.S.F.A. with some 2,500 players in all grades and we had a relatively 'young' team. THE SEASON'S COMPETITION WAS UNDOUBTEDLY THE FINEST EVER SEEN IN CHURCH SOCCER. A playoff was a possibility at the last round but did not eventuate due to a GOYA loss. The records: We lost our first fixture in 2 years Vs Clairvaux (round 12) which ended an Americas Cup Sequence. We still have not lost a game at Home (Dutton Pk) in 2 seasons. We have not beaten Clairvaux in 3 years of Competition. Team spirit has never been better at the club and Manny Pippas' experience organisation and faith in and of the players all together played a major role in a very successful season. THE GOAL NOW SHOULD BE TO BUILD ON AND GO ONE BETTER NEXT YEAR. I feel that the players should commit themselves a bit more, work a little harder, take pride in their jerseys, play as one and learn to forget bad habits and to play in the style that has seen Spartans rise to prominence as a respected team....this advice comes from someone who believes that the game of soccer and the club standard SHOULD come first.

PREMIERS IN VERY FIRST YEAR OF AA1 GRADE

THANK-YOU'S

The club wishes to thank its LOYAL supporters who braved the weather, long drives, lost weekends and spurred on their players.

Some of them were: Mr & Mrs Drakopoulos, Mr Stamatiou, Mr Vaitsis, Dezzy, Seva, Michelle, Mary, Peter S, Peter C, Filia, James P, Arthur & Cathy, Paul & Jo, Nessie, the Conomos girls, Phil, Chrissa & Karlie, Zac, Nick GA, Spiro GA, and many others remembered but forgotten.

SPECIALS

WE THANK MOST SINCERELY MR GEORGE PRINEAS AND FAMILY FOR ALLOWING US TO USE FREQUENTLY THEIR VIDEO CAMERA WHICH HAS

LEFT US WITH MANY HILITES AND GREAT MEMORIES. We thank James Prineas and Peter Stamatiou for their camera -man duties during the season. Thank you all very very much.....

I dare not forget Arthur & Paul (Starsky & Hutch) for their videographic commentary.

PROFILES

As is customary after every season I will now give a profile on the Squad Members who contributed to a memorable season.

GEORGE PELEGAS

Pelé, Mr. Penalty was the tireless Lieutenant of the team. In the '9' george was one of the key men producing goals when needed. One of the best strikers in the game, his ability to recover & support was an extra this year. His best games were Vs GOYA, "ests & Nundah. Put your glasses down when he takes a penalty.

PROFILES

EMMANUEL PIPPOS

Manny or Cloudland or The French Lieutenants Woman did an unbelievable job as workhorse, Tactician, Coach, Manager, trainer & selector. For him his mental & physical reserves were taxed throughout the 5 months of competition. Players rallied around him and the basis of teamwork developed. As a player he is tough on the ground and unrivalled in the air. Best games Vs GOYA, Wests, Nundah, St Pauls and consistently in other games. He would like to see the players become fitter and pull together more.

MICHAEL COMINO

Pigdog or Tyson has DEFINITELY had one of his best seasons EVER. The word 'workhorse' was invented for him. Moreover his support rate was excellent. The quickest goal on record Vs Clairvaux (20 odd secs) is proudly his. A gem Vs GOYA and it is funny to see him scoring so many great goals in support. Master of the Art of Dispossession-the crux of Spartan Midfield for over 5 years. An Attacker Attacker?

PETER DRAKOPOULOS

The biggest Defensive Find in Half a Decade. When asked to fill the gigantic hole left by Conrad Comino & Lou Fotino (Hymie) he did so way beyond belief. A truly safe 'n sure Sweeper who believes "when in doubt, it's out"-an idea that has been proven correct always. The best Goalkicker we've ever seen by a long measure. Tough but unassuming...he can take credit for our impeccable defensive record.

THEO TAVALARAS

Van Basten due to his deftness on the ball. When we talk of Theo we always think of those State Level goals Vs GOYA, Blackstone, St Pauls and from the East Silkstone & Sunnybank...simply awesome. Threads a nice pass and of late has turned into an adept playmaker. He has a liking for the dead ball and is very highly spirited. Mr. World Soccer is surely an asset to our club...and certainly a prodigious talent.

SPIRO SCLAVOS

Spirit comes from the seemingly bottomless pit of sporting slaves'. He took up the role of former wingman Charlie S and has produced some of the most devastating finishing when needed (Vs Saints, Vs Blackstone). Confident, skilful and full of Esprit De Corps Spiro has justified his place in the side in a big way. His size has camouflaged his abilities surprising many many opponents. All in all-good dedut.

PANTELLI ATHOUSIS

Rio is one of the real personalities of the team. Keen, determined & dutiful of his position he has had a top year. An honest player who learns from those around him. His importance cannot be underestimated as he is usually on the spot when needed. A true Spartan to the end right down to his accent. A good runner (see Semi Vs Clairvaux), a team player with a big foot (see Susquatch). A lot of the guys wouldn't know where they'd be without him...

PROFILES

CON PANAGOPOULOS Wham has emulated his debut appearance except that now he is a much hungrier flanker. His mercurial pace still draws comments from every opponent without fail. Brilliance personified Vs GOYA, in particular, and other games. The team is fortunate to have such a fine winger in Con. He certainly gets amongst the goals but his worth is out wide..in short his supply has been the best ever. A very earnest trainer who complements the 'targeted' strikers perfectly. Much more in store for '89.

TERRY STAMATIOU From starting as an average yet talented 'keeper, Terror Sta-matia-sou is without reservation the finest goalie in Church Soccer Today. This is not just my opinion but that of other top clubs. Since our Clairvaux loss Terry has shown that quality which lifts players up a gear: the ability to snap, leave his line readily & on the floor he is without peer. 'reflexes' goes without saying. Too many Saves to mention: Vs GOYA, Clairvaux & Logan in the past are just a few. Like wine..gets better over time.

JOHN VAITSIS If ever we can say that someone improved across the year then it is he. From trying to find his feet he has learned and shown a willingness for such to become a 'regular'. Also an avid trainer his Debut into the Big Time will be well remembered. His best stints were against Big Guns Wests & St Pauls as he shut down players with loads of so called class better than he. How much better can he get?

LUKE COMINO Fluke's experience gets him to where the younger players try to get. He is a Foudation member (and there are not too many left) who has made 'full-back' his forte. It is ashame that injury prevented him from chalking up consistency. A strong follower of the club it is like you expect him to be there. Better effort in '89.

GEORGE JAMES SUSQUATCH/Big Foot or simply PSYCHO (to his enemies) is another one of our unrelenting Last Ditch Stoppers and a good one on his day. Big Hearted & Big Footed he is wholeheartedly involved every time he plays (see the handball Vs Clairvaux). He and Pantelli are the Big Hitmen in a lightcontact sport...some good saves and always enthusiastic in his position. Record holder: the ball is still 'lost in space'. Yes in '89.

MARK AGAR A little man in a big mans game. Carries himself like a trapeze artist on the field. A true midfielder who is sorely missed in that passing tapestry we call the engine room. A fine passer and an even better playmaker who complements Dog, Theo, Manny George, Con & Spiro. Invaluable and a reason for our greater manoeuvreability over the years. Scored a memorable First goal (the last goal of the regular season) Vs Nundah which will not soon be forgotten. A good effort Mark..hopeful in '89. Congratulations....

A GOOD YEAR

ARTHUR VLAHOS

Little Artie (now with PAHOS in the Greek First Division) sustained the biggest injury of year. This gutsy player was missed and John V got his lucky break after Artie got his unlucky one. This guys Determination and close (very) marking ability was a part of our great defence. The dreaded warcry of "No..." was not heard for a while but I wager will return bigger and louder in '89.

JOHN PAPAS

Sam Backo was (and still is) a bit of a Mystery Man all season. Like Psycho, Rio, Rambo he was a very physical player making a lot of big hits like Wally Fullerton-Smith (see Vs GOYA). Brunette one day, blonde the next we often asked "who is this new player?". His best game was against Blackstone (away). Nicknamed Tequilla.

PAUL KOUTSOUKOS

Rambo spent as much time behind the camera as in front this year. A big team spirit, he helped us out when our numbers were down. He is a full-back in the Bob Jones style making many unusual saves in defence... i guess even soccer is an evolving game. Sensei Paul or grasshopper is always welcomed even if for a brief time.

STEFANO

A short and sweet name like a famous Hairdressing Magnate he trained well with the side but was very much on the periphery of selection. An auspicious debut in the Tip Top game Vs St Pauls which was the last time they ever beat us: he played very well indeed I thought. A change in attitude may see him play more often in '89.

EYE 4 NOW

I was proud to be associated with a fine bunch of players this year who had done the team 'GOSPYA SPARTANS' many positive things this year. With luck and foreboding any unforeseen circumstances I would like to see each and every one of their 'ugly' faces back again next season—even a few new ones if possible—because the players there now are no doubt the basis for the Best soccer team yet seen in Church Soccer. We've come from obscurity in AAS to win a Premiership in AAI—brilliant?? The Sky's the Limit. ++++ I WOULD LIKE TO THANK, ON BEHALF OF THE PLAYERS, THE GOSPYA EXEC FOR THEIR CONTINUING SUPPORT THIS YEAR AND IN THE PAST. THEIR ATTITUDE TO SUCH COMPETITIONS HAS BEEN CONSISTANT WITH PREVIOUS COMMITTEES AND FOR THAT WE ARE ALL TRULY APPRECIATIVE ++++++
